Dan Wright

Dan Wright is a singer from Leicester. '... talented acoustic singer Dan Wright seconds before he was due to go on stage at The Western Park festival. He played a storming set...' - Leicestershire Music Page. He started writing songs at the age of 13, self taught guitarist at 16. Always had a passion for all aspects of music. His style is Acoustic with a hint of blues, but often adapting different genres of music into his songs.

Ian Bourne

From Nuneaton, Ian is a singer we have seen several times, at both gigs and festivals. He started working as a singer/songwriter in 2010. Ian performed at the Hinckley Music festival. He performs all over the Midlands, generally featuring an eclectic mix of obscure and unusual covers and dark, moody originals. Recently Ian has been writing music to accommodate poetry (by a friend) into songs. While I most often play solo, I also have at least two duos featuring a mix of covers and original material and a trio playing jazz, soul, and blues.

Jonezy

Jonathan Jones is a 23 rap artist who writes and performs his own original songs. He has been performing for over three years and describes his style of music as 'having a good time, poverty, life, true stories or anything that has a meaning or is cool.' He recently visited Norway to record a video and track with the young rising-star singer Alexandru, who will be appearing with Jonezy at shows in Leicester, later this year. Jonezy has performed at the Glastonbudget, Foxton Locks and Glastonblaby festivals this year. He has supported Los Angeles band OPM and has recorded several songs and videos tracks. He has produced several EPs and is managed by ArtsIn Productions.
